Re: Aviat Networks, Request for Waiver of Certain Antenna

Requirements in the 71-76 and 81-86 GHz Bands

Dear Ms. Dortch:

On April 5, 2013, Aviat Networks, through its affiliate Aviat U.S., Inc., filed a request for partial waiver of Section 101.115 to permit smaller antennas in the 71-76 and 81-86 GHz bands. An amendment to the waiver request was filed on March 24, 2014. By this letter, Aviat Networks and Radio Frequency Systems (RFS) jointly request that the Commission add RFS as a party to the waiver request, as amended.

The parties also note that the requested relaxation of antenna standards would facilitate the introduction of smaller antennas of all types, including both compact parabolic and planar antennas. As previously described, a grant of the requested waiver will reduce costs, further broadband deployment, and benefit U.S. providers and manufacturers, with no adverse effect on any party. Accordingly, we ask the Commission to further the public interest by acting on the waiver request as quickly as possible.
